

Cut from a Skype chat with an Australian client..... (April 2007)

Have just had a meeting with our client from and they are very happy with the drawings that you guys have provided. The guy I deal with has 6 checkers at his disposal but has reduced the amount of checking carried out due to the quality of the early issues that were checked 100%. Keep up the good work. The rep I deal with is a detailer by trade and is their detailing manager who looks after all their subbies around the world. Very experienced guy who knows most companies in the game so it's great that you guys can impress him.
